Darien's First Photography Studio offers Popular High School Portraits and More

Darien – It's the moment Fairfield County high school seniors have been waiting for! On October 1st Megan Dey Photography will open its first studio in downtown Darien, becoming the town's only photography studio and the hot spot to have senior high school portraits taken.

"The East Coast doesn't do 'cool' senior portraits like the rest of America," says owner Megan Farley, a former New York City magazine photographer. "Right now local high school students must take head/shoulder senior shots for the year book. But wouldn't it be great to take some fabulous photos at some different locations. Maybe places that mean something to you, like a local park or club, or, if you're a sailor, at the beach or on a boat."

Megan Dey Photography specializes in the popular, top of the line portraits that high school seniors clamor for across the country. The studio also creates gorgeous family and newborn portraits and superlative photography for special events like weddings and engagements. Farley is a seasoned professional who wants her work to be an artistic creation that customers will treasure for years to come.

"What I am really offering people is great art to display in their home," she says. "People love photos of themselves and their children and want to capture that time in their life, particularly with newborns."

Farley prides herself on a quality product. She specializes in up-to-date, digital, artistic portraits and edits all her own work, only sending it out to a national professional lab for printing.

"My work really begins once the shoot is over and I get into my digital darkroom," she explains. "But my editing is subtle and clients often don't even notice, as it's never overdone." She works in studio or on site at the customer's request.

Farley's friendly, accessible attitude and caring customer service means she is never short on clients from positive referrals.

"The personal attention I give to each of my clients allows me to create portraits that are unmatched in creativity and capture personalities as they truly are," she says. "My commitment to my clients is to provide the most personal and creative service I can possibly give, and to provide an enriching photographic experience in my studio, beginning with the initial contact and lasting through portrait delivery."
